Sheila Lyons

Sales Project Coordinator at Eccentex Corporation

“I have had the pleasure of working with Taha Shipchandler from Datamatix on several joint projects over the past two years. He has assisted in the RFP bidding process, and as a service provider Business Analyst on a major project deploying an Eccentex AppBase management platform. Taha gathered detailed requirements from users, created functional specifications, and concise user documentation from technical specifications.

As a multi-talented individual and business owner, he has become highly knowledgeable in our product, AppBase. Taha is always professional, innovative and willing to take on any task. I would highly recommend Taha's enthusiastic approach to accomplishing projects to any organization or team.

What I admire most from Taha is his perseverance and his dedication, though we have many issues and challenges, he is always there to the end. I believe he is a great asset for Shipcom for any future projects, and I'm happy that he was the one assigned to do this project for us.
